MAYOR URGES ACTION IN MURDER MYSTERY

SUBJECT CHOSEN FOR SMITH TALK HELD A SECRET

Leaders Believe Nominee Will Throw Restraint Aside In Speech

OPINIONS DIFFER ON CHICAGO VOTE

"AF" Will Lead Parade Over Thirty Miles Of City Streets

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Practical politicians of two opposing parties here in Chicago are as far apart as the poles regarding the outcome of the presidential election in Illinois.

Such Democratic leaders as Tom Donovan, successor to the late George Brennan, as Democratic National committee from Illinois and state chairman as well, has told Governor Smith that he will come up-state to the Cook county line on even terms with Herbert Hoover and that he will carry Cook county by between 100,000 and 200,000. This would give him the state by a wide margin.

While Democratic leaders have been pouring news like this into Governor Smith's attentive ear, former Representative James W. Good of Iowa, Hoover manager of the western headquarters, with equal confidence asserts that Illinois will return a normal Republican majority for Hoover, which he estimates are not less than 500,000. Coolidge's majority over Davis four years ago was 870,000.

Chances Loaded

One of the more optimistic of the Smith managers here is George N. Peek, who retired as a plow manufacturer in Moline, Ill., to drive the McNary-Haugen bill through congress and then bolted the Republican party to put Governor Smith in the White House. He is the chairman of the Smith For President independent organizations committee, which is endeavoring to capture the farmer vote in the disaffected middle-west for the "happy warrior."

This organization has been amply supplied with funds by the Democratic National committee and Peek believes the work has been so effective that he adds Oklahoma, Illinois, Indiana, and South Dakota to the other list.

Governor Smith was to have a respite from these political predictions today which is more or less officially "Al Smith Day" in Chicago. At noon he will lead his party.

HOOVER GREETS ZEPPELIN PILOT

New York Address Gets Finishing Touches; Trip Routed

Washington, Oct. 19.—Laying aside his political problems for the moment, Herbert Hoover today participated in the national capital's ovation to the crew of the trans-Atlantic dirigible, Graf Zeppelin.

Led by Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the airship, the Zeppelin crew called on Hoover at his headquarters, following their breakfast with President Coolidge. The Republican nominee warmly congratulated the German visitors on the courage and daring of their trans-Atlantic flight.

Prepares Speech

Hoover planned to devote a part of the day to putting the finishing touches on his New York address, which will deal with the relationship between government and business. Hoover will cite some financial statistics upholding the Republican claims.

The Hoover board of strategy meanwhile was planning the itinerary of his western trip. At the insistence of Missouri leaders, Hoover probably will make a prepared speech in St. Louis, that city being favored now over Chicago. If he does, the nominee undoubtedly will have used him to visit Milwaukee. Whatever itinerary is decided upon in the Middle West, Hoover undoubtedly will visit Denver on the last Saturday night of the campaign and probably will close the campaign with a radio address either from Los Angeles or his home in Palo Alto, Cal.

Indianapolis Is Stop

Hoover likewise will stop at Indianapolis to make a personal appearance on the swing west and undoubtedly will visit Chicago to whether or not he speaks there. Some of his advisers also have insisted upon a visit to St. Paul and Minneapolis and another group have urged him to visit Milwaukee. Whatever itinerary is decided upon in the Middle West, Hoover undoubtedly will visit Denver on the last Saturday night of the campaign and probably will close the campaign with a radio address either from Los Angeles or his home in Palo Alto, Cal.

Columbus Prepared to Welcome Alumni and Their Bankrolls

Columbus, Oct. 19.—With football partisans eagerly scanning weather reports, W. H. Alexander, director of the U. Alexander declared, and with their weather fears dispersed, the inflowing crowds of grid fans turned their attention to "vital statistics" in connection with the game and found them as follows:

Taxicabs—something to gladden the heart—"no raise in rates."

Juror Taken Ill During Trial In Lisbon Courtroom

William Hays of Washington township, one of the jurors serving in court room No. 1 in the common pleas court, was stricken with a severe heart attack about 11 o'clock Thursday morning, and for a time his life was despaired of. The jurors who were serving the case of Alice Ramsey, administratrix vs. the Steubenville, Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co., were enjoying a recess in the corridor of the court house, when Mr. Hays staggered, and fell unconscious to the floor. Dr. Seward was called and the stricken man removed to the petit jury room. He was later removed to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wade Clark, on West Washington st.

HOPES FADING FOR FLYER IN MINIATURE SHIP

No Word Received From Capt. Mac Donald's Tiny Craft

LAST REPORT FROM SHIP FAR AT SEA

Possibilities Few That Gallant Aviator May Still Be Alive

London, Oct. 19.—Although more than 40 hours have elapsed since Commander H. C. MacDonald hopped off from Harbor Grace, N. F., in his daring attempt to make a solo flight across the Atlantic in a tiny 35-horse-power moth plane, his wife and many of his friends here today still cling to the forlorn hope that he was forced down at sea and picked up by a ship carrying no wireless.

Plane Sighted

The miniature plane was sighted only once since leaving its starting point. The Dutch steamer Hardenburg reported the plane about 12.30 o'clock yesterday morning at a position between 600 and 700 miles north and east of Harbor Grace. MacDonald had intended negotiating the 2,000 miles to Croydon Field, England, in about 20 hours. Weather conditions almost over the entire route were reported as favorable and it is this fact which is causing much misgiving here. Even if he encountered adverse conditions, MacDonald should have arrived at the Irish coast yesterday afternoon.

The daring flyer carried approximately 110 gallons of gasoline and had expected to get about 20 miles out of each gallon unless he met head winds. His plane was capable of 110 miles an hour but he was expected to keep to a speed of about 100 miles an hour.

Far For Safety

The general feeling in aviation circles today is that MacDonald's failure to reappear anywhere on this side of the Atlantic was a sign that he had gone the way of many other intrepid souls who had pitted their all against the Atlantic and lost.

While praise of his daring and courage was heard on all sides, many made no attempt to hide the fact that they thought MacDonald's attempt to emulate Lindbergh in so small a plane, with an open cockpit and no wireless, was foolhardy.

All shipping along the course he was to have traversed has been asked to be on the lookout for MacDonald's plane. Beacon lights flared all night along the Irish coast and at Croydon with the dim but vain hope that the "moth" plane would make a belated appearance.

San Quentin Prison, California, Oct. 19.—William Edward Hickman, boy slayer of little Marion Parker, paid for his crime on the gallows here, shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. (1 o'clock eastern standard time).

Dawn found Hickman preparing for his death to the scratchy strains of a phonograph playing "The Blues."

As he walked around his flower decked wire mesh cell, the "Fox" displayed no emotion over his approaching doom.

He wrote letters and conversed freely with his spiritual mentor Father Fleming, who walked up the gallows steps with him and whispered a final prayer for Hickman's soul as the trap was sprung.

Father Fleming, who has seen many murderers go to their deaths at San Quentin in the past 19 years, says he had never seen one so strangely unconcerned as this young fellow who brutally butchered Marion Parker 10 months ago.

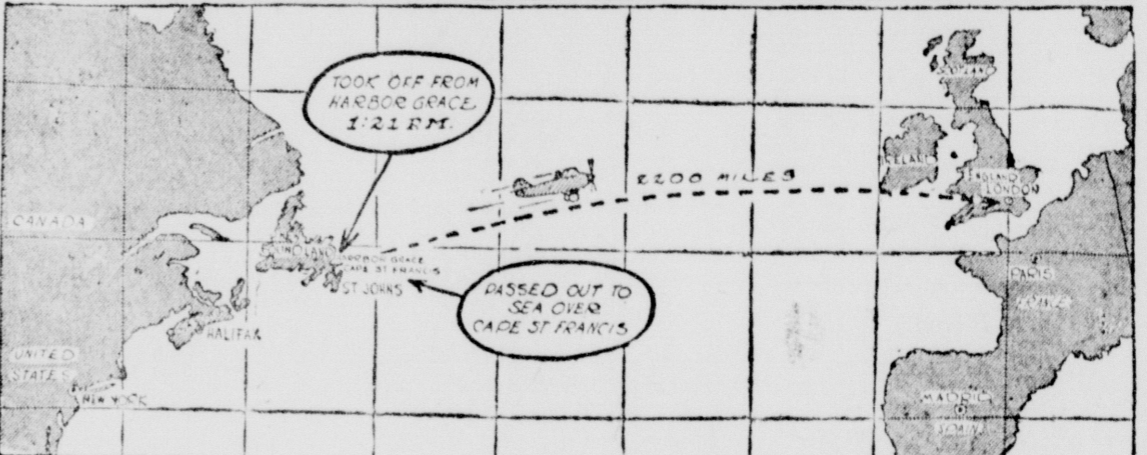

Hickman showed little concern which informed early this morning that the last chance for life had gone. The only thing that seemed to worry the slayer was whether or not his mother is going to spend her savings on his funeral.

"Warden," said Hickman, "tell me they're going to bury me here. Honest I don't want my old man and my mother to spend a lot of money taking me back east."

As the final hours of life slowly ebbed away, the "Fox" buoyed himself up with an uncanny religious exaltation.

He said that he felt that his death would cleanse him of his sins—and with this, he seemed actually anxious for the end.

The upper picture shows Capt. H. C. MacDonald seated in the tiny Moth plane in which he attempted to span the Atlantic. The plane could travel 110 miles an hour and was carrying sufficient fuel for 20 hours.

Lower is the proposed route of the intrepid flier, along which he must have met his death. Some hopes are held that he reached land or was picked up by a vessel without wireless.

FIRE RESULTS IN DEATH OF MAIL AVIATOR

Body of William Hopson Found In Charred Plane Wreckage

Clarion, Pa., Oct. 19.—The body of William C. Hopson, New York-to-Cleveland air mail pilot, was found in the wreckage of his burned plane near Polk, six miles southwest of Franklin, Pa., at 7 a. m. today, according to word received at the airport here.

Hopson was lying in the cockpit of the plane which was found by J. C. Hayes, one of a party which set out to search for him when the aviator apparently lost his way in the fog and storm early yesterday and flew off his course.

According to information here, a large portion of the 1,000 pounds of mail which Hopson carried was destroyed by fire which caused Hopson's death.

Cleveland, Oct. 19.—Officials of the National Air Transport company here were still hopeful today that William "Wild Bill" Hopson, crack air mail pilot who failed to arrive here yesterday on his regular run from New York, would yet be found alive.

It had been fairly well established this morning that Hopson crashed in a wooded, hilly section near Polk, Pa., early yesterday. Several planes were to leave Clarion, Pa., this morning to search for the missing flyer, according to word sent here by Wesley L. Smith, superintendent of the Cleveland-New York division of the N. A. T. Smith was to head the searching expedition.

Two residents of Polk reported that they heard an airplane flying low early yesterday morning. The plane was apparently in distress, they said, its engine sputtering when they heard it about 2 o'clock. It was flying westward, they reported, and at some distance away appeared to burst into flames and drop on a hill.

The two who reported witnessing the incident, and who told identical stories, were Mrs. Mary Gilling, a nurse at the Polk State insane asylum, and Ross Perry.

Section of Highway Opened Saturday

Barriers will be removed and the new southern section of the East Liverpool-Youngstown rd. in Liverpool township will be opened to through traffic late Saturday afternoon, it was announced today by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

There will be several places along this new section and also along the brick section in St. Clair township where barriers have not been worked up, and while the road will be opened, signs will be erected warning motorists that they are using the road at their own risk.

"I would urge motorists to drive slow and carefully over this new section at this time," Kirk suggested.

GOLDNER DEATH STILL UNSOLVED, OFFICIALS STATE

Coroner Scored For Not Investigating Cause Of Grell Death

POLICE CONFRONTED BY MANY OBSTACLES

Probe Will Continue Until All Possible Clues Are Exhausted

Mayor Phil Hiddleston stated today that he is far from satisfied with support of the police department has been giving in its attempts to solve the murder of John Goldner, whose body was found in a field near Salem on Oct. 9.

Police investigated the death of the man and established the fact that he had been murdered, despite primary evidence which pointed otherwise.

Salem police, continuing active investigations on the case have uncovered no new clues to assist in solution.

Police Chief T. W. Thompson and Patrolmen William Reardon and Ralph Steffer have followed several leads coming from Goldner's friends living in the vicinity of the field where his body was found two weeks ago, without effective results.

"We can't let this matter drop without solving the mystery," Mayor Phil Hiddleston stated today, after police reported no further results. "There is something more than running down the conspirators in the case. Prestige of Salem police authorities is involved, and until everything possible is done to solve the mystery, none of the officers will be removed from the case."

Raps Coroner

Hiddleston scored Coroner J. M. Van Fossan for his failure to investigate deeply into the death of John Grell, owner of the house at which Goldner roomed, and who was one of the suspects in the case.

"The connections between the two deaths was strong enough to warrant further investigations, and more action should have been taken," he declared.

Van Fossan in a statement declared that he was not definitely satisfied that Grell's death had been caused by heart trouble, as had been stated by local physicians. He is said to have failed to act on

COOLIDGE WILL MAKE ADDRESS

Fredericksburg Ceremony Occasion For Speech By Executive

Washington, Oct. 19.—President Coolidge will make his first speech in the course of the current presidential campaign this afternoon, and its contents are being waited for expectantly to determine what effect, if any, the address will have thereon.

The executive makes his appearance just outside Fredericksburg, Va., in connection with the breaking of ground for the national battlefields memorial commemorating the battles of Fredericksburg, The Wilderness, Spotsylvania, and Chancellorsville. The occasion is hardly one to warrant an out-and-out political speech, but it is anticipated that Mr. Coolidge will say something from which Herbert Hoover and the Republican party may take comfort.

Shortly after noon, the president and his party will leave Washington by special train for the occasion, arriving in time to allow him to speak at 3 o'clock.

A large crowd is expected to be on hand at the site which marked the high tide of the Civil war, and an extensive radio hook-up will carry the president's remarks to countless others. Heavy pilgrimages are enroute from Washington, Richmond and all of Virginia to hear the speech.

TO CHANGE CONSTITUTION
Governor Donahy has announced that he will campaign against the initiated constitutional amendment permitting judges to draw salary increases voted to them during their terms of office, a course stopped by the constitution of Ohio as it stands today, and to this end he has named himself a member of the committee selected to prepare arguments against the proposal, which, in part, reads:

"The compensation for such judges, provided by law shall not be diminished or increased during the term of office, of such judges, except that, whenever any law now existing or hereinafter enacted, changing the salary or compensation of judges of the supreme court, court of appeals, the common pleas court, the probate court, the municipal court of any municipality, or any other court established by law, becomes effective as to any judge of the courts enumerated, then such law shall be deemed equally effective and in operation as to all judges of such courts, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 20 of Article II of the Constitution of Ohio."

Should this amendment reap the approval of the voters of Ohio, it would make operative the provisions of the Ott bill passed by the general assembly last year, vetoed by Governor Donahy and passed over his veto.

The bill increased the salary of the chief justice of the Ohio supreme court from $9,000 to $12,000 annually and the salaries of the other justices of the court from $8,000 to $12,000. There is no question of this, but in his veto message Governor Donahy held that the bill permits increases of the salaries of the judges of courts of appeal from $8,000 to a maximum of $12,000 and for common pleas judges to a maximum of $12,000 in Cuyahoga county.

We are very frank to say that we are not in position to judge of the merit of the governor's contention, and thus await with interest the argument against the proposal prepared by the committee of which he has made himself a member. It is a matter in which every taxpayer in the state should take interest.

But we are just as frank in saying that it is our belief that the constitution impediment against the changing of the salary during the term of office of an incumbent is a good one, demonstrated to be such through the years since it became a constitutional provision. The provision now a part of the constitution works two ways; it not only protects the taxpayers, but officials as well.

THOROUGH CLEANSING AIDS SKIN TROUBLES

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D., United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

Why do some persons have clear, fresh, perfect skin, while others suffer from rashes, pimples and all sorts of defects? If you are one of the afflicted, you have asked yourself this question a thousand times. You have been embarrassed and humiliated time and time again. The chances are you have spent a small fortune, buying lotions, salves and perhaps a trunkful of patent medicines.

There are several factors involved. In the first place, skins differ in texture, size of pores, circulation of the blood and general cleansing properties. The fortunate people are those who have the kind of face covering that resists infection and inflammation.

Unfortunately many persons have coarse, large-pored, greasy skins. Their powers of resistance are low. Most of the time there is some sort of an eruption to mar the beauty and cause annoyance.

We are what we are when it comes to the nature of our body tissues. This is a fundamental thing beyond human control.

But even so, there are many things we can do to make such a skin attractive. This is the subject

LIGHTS ON AIRSHIPS
Lack of sufficient running lights on the monster dirigible, Los Angeles, has resulted in a complaint being filed with the navy department regarding the menace to night flying air mail pilots. Harold P. Pictairn, president of the aviation company which operates the air mail route between New York and Atlanta on a night schedule, has reported to the department that if it had not been for the fact that one of his pilots picked the exact moment that he was headed directly for the invisible ship to test his landing lights there would have been a fatal collision. Other pilots, it is said, have told of similar experiences and lucky escapes. Despite the justice of the complaint and the seriousness of the situation, no reply has been received.

The Navy department should hasten to take action on this matter. It can not afford to countenance the flying of its big dirigible in a manner that is potentially dangerous to other users of the air. Everything on the ground, on the sea and in the sky should be sufficiently lighted at night to avoid the dangers of collision, and the United States navy should certainly take the lead in equipping the Los Angeles with enough lights to protect the fliers of another branch of the government.

Airplanes and airships will probably never become as numerous as automobiles, but with the steady increase of flying machines the thought has probably occurred to every one that the future congestion in the air will be tantamount to wholesale loss of life. At present the night flier's chief worry is that he will be enveloped by fog and that his motor will stop. He thinks little about the possibility of collision. But when there are hundreds and perhaps thousands of others shooting through the ether at high speed the danger of crashes will become acute. These problems, however, are something for future generations to solve. In the meantime the Navy department should comply with the reasonable request that its big ship be adequately lighted to avert accidents. — Washington Star.

I want to discuss today. Of chief importance, first to be thought of, is cleanliness. You will say at once that, of course, you keep your face clean. But you don't. This kind of a skin is thoroughly cleansed only at the cost of great effort. A dab of water and a quick rinse off won't clean it.

After the ordinary washing of almost any face, it is amazing what a layer of dirt is left. Moistened the corner of a clean towel with a little alcohol or cologne. After washing and drying of the face rub it with this moistened towel. There will be a black smudge on the cloth.

It is clear that soap and water alone is not enough for a greasy skin. The grease must be "cut" and thoroughly mopped with the wash cloth to free the surface of dirt.

You cannot hope to have a clear skin unless it is cleansed better than you are in the habit of treating it. Never go to bed until you have cared for the face as I have suggested.

There are simple cleansing creams that have real merit. After washing with soap and water, lots of both, and scrubbing with a little diluted alcohol or a similar solvent of grease, apply the cleansing cream. Rub it in gently, first making sure that your hands are perfectly clean.

In the morning give the face another good washing with soap and water. Then gently massage the skin, squeezing out the contents of the pores. End the process by bathing the skin in cold water.

Blackheads are little less than a filling or choking of the pores of the skin with the secretions of the sweat and grease glands, mixed with dirt, dead skin cells, cinders and filthy soap. If this mass is left in place, it makes a splendid breeding place for skin germs. It acts as a splinter in your finger. You know how that will "fester." In much the same way the black head will fester and cause a lot of trouble.

The bowels must be given attention. Chronic constipation permits germ growth in the bowel and encourages the development of poisons which affect the skin.

You must make sure the kidneys, too, are acting as they should. Body poisons are carried away when they act right.

These are a few of the many things the unfortunate victim of skin trouble must keep in mind. Try these for a while and see if your face does not improve in appearance.

IDLE SIX MONTHS; KONJOLA PUTS MAN BACK ON THE JOB

Ten Years of Suffering with Stomach and Bowel Troubles Ended
By Master Medicine.

MR. A. H. MCKENZIE

When the outlook is dark, when hope fades, then is the time to think of Konjola, the master medicine for disorders of the stomach, liver, kidney and bowels, and neuritis, rheumatism and nervousness. Konjola brings glorious health when all else has failed. Read what Mr. A. H. McKenzie, 1102 West Madison street, Sandusky, Ohio, has to say for this modern medicine:

"Six months ago, I had to quit work, so weak and worn out was I with stomach and bowel trouble that held me in their clutches for ten years. Anything I ate caused intense pain; I had to take laxatives constantly. I could not sleep, and dizzy spells added to my misery. Things looked dark, for no medicine touched my case. I had read of the success of Konjola, but dared not hope it would help me. I tried it, however, and after taking four bottles, my terrible ailments of ten years standing have disappeared. How glorious it is to be a well man again. Oh, that I could have had this remedy ten years ago."

Konjola is sold in Salem at J. H. Lease drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

TRADE VOLUME ON MARKET IS DAY'S FEATURE

Coppers and Nickels Go On Ascent As Mart Is Opened

AUTOS, OILS JOIN IN GENERAL RISE

Montgomery-Ward Leaps And 2,000 Shares Change Hands

New York, Oct. 19.—Large stock trading and strength in the popular industrial featured the opening of the stock market today. Coppers were higher in International Nickel, up 3 points at 170, and Kennecott up 1 1/2 to 109 1/2. In an opening sale of 10,000 shares Radio Corporation sold at 220, up 2; Montgomery Ward jumped 4 to 335, 2,000 shares changing hands. Keith Albee Orpheum sold at 34 1/2, up 1/2, for 10,000 shares. The motors were especially strong, with General Motors up 1 at 22 1/2; Hudson up 1/2 at 92 1/2; Mack Trucks up 1/2 at 96 1/2; Packard up 1/2 at 104 1/2; Chrysler up 1 at 138 and Stewart Warner up 1/2 at 104 1/2. A sale of 15,000 shares was transacted in Studebaker at 85 1/2, up 1/2. Oils were led by Atlantic Refining, which advanced 2 to 19 1/2.

Furious bidding for the high-priced speculative favorites at the beginning of trading today resulted in sharp advances all along the line, with speculative interest concentrated on the pace-setters of the past week. The $75,000,000 increase in brokers' loans, as shown in the weekly reserve board report, was considered as significant in Wall Street as the decrease of $57,500,000 in rediscounts at the reserve bank, which showed that the banks were able to loan without increasing their own borrowings.

Wild Scramble
A wild and riotous scramble for the speculative favorites sent prices sky-rocketing again. Montgomery Ward rushed up 19 points to 350; American International 6 points to 120; Radio 7 points to 225; Studebaker 2 points to 87 1/2; Atlantic Refining 3 points to 19 1/2; Adolph Smelting 3 points and various industrial and specialties 1/2 point. The mercantile stocks, coppers, oils, amusements and specialties resumed the forward movement which has been in progress since Monday morning, and many of the "high-grade" rails changed hands at higher prices.

Ticker Behind
The ticker fell 20 minutes behind the market before the end of the first hour and the usual confusion was in evidence in the brokerage offices and customers' rooms. Brokers on the floor of the exchange struggled with each other to fill customers' orders, particularly in stocks in which the offerings were limited. Warner Brothers Pictures was whirled up about 5 points as a huge buying wave flowed to the theatrical group; Pathe and Keith Albee rising about 2 points each. Katy was a favorite in the speculative rails, with a new rise above 43.

GOLDNER DEATH
his own statement, Grell's body was found in his home, West Liberty st. a week after Goldner's body was discovered. Death, two Salem doctors stated, had been caused by acute dilation of the heart.

Information
Police were informed Thursday morning by a neighbor of Grell that investigations concerning Grell's death should be carried through.

"Grell probably didn't do the killing, but he knew plenty about the case," police were informed. The man was questioned in length concerning the habits of both Grell and Goldner. Goldner, he said, had no enemies and was well-liked, but he did not get along well with Grell. Salem police have been working diligently in an effort to follow information received, and Thursday visited points in the vicinity of Salem within a radius of 30 miles. They are repeatedly meeting with obstacles and are confronted with one of the most baffling mysteries occurring in this section in years.

Juddsen today declared that were the city financially able, a reward would be offered for information leading to arrests, and hoped that some action would be taken by county authorities in assisting the officers.

Masonic Organization Is To Meet In Ohio City In 1929

Columbus, Oct. 19.—With the selection of Toledo as the meeting place for 1929, the grand lodge of Blue Lodge Masons of Ohio stood adjourned today following a brief business session Thursday.

Otto H. Hohly, Toledo, was elevated from the post of deputy grand master to grand master while the Masonic Veterans association, which met here in conjunction with the grand lodge, selected Campbell M. 30-Mile Route

The route of the parade at least 30 miles long and it will require about three hours for him to cover it. It is estimated that half a million people will have the opportunity to get a glimpse of the famous brown derby and the famous Smith smile.

The parade is just the beginning of a busy day for the governor. Tonight he speaks in the 131st regiment armory—the last speech he will make in the west before election. The hall hold less than 10,000 and it is reported that at least 200,000 people will strive for those places. No reserved tickets have been issued, and there is expected to be a mad scramble.

Although the governor has prepared his speech, he is keeping the subject to himself. It was indicated, however, that he will yield to the pleas of the Chicago leaders and throw off the restraint which has characterized most of his speeches and cut loose with a real rabble rousing speech.

QUICK RELIEF FROM SYMPTOMS OF GALL STONES

The dangerous symptoms to overcome are dizziness, nausea, gas on stomach and in bowels, biliousness, constipation and pain in right side, especially under lower ribs.

The secret is to get a normal flow of healthful bile and to arouse the lazy sluggish liver. That's exactly what Klax-Ko does—easily and safely. Klax-Ko is a special prescription which thins the bile, clears clogged bile ducts, helps empty the gall bladder of thick congested bile and salt formations—the cause of gall stones. With the free flow of healthful bile, the intestinal tract is cleansed, and the distressing symptoms disappear.

Do not fool with your health, especially these symptoms. Klax-Ko has brought joyful relief to many and it should for you. Money refunded if it doesn't help you. Go to The J. H. Lease Drug Co., or any other good druggist and get a box of Klax-Ko tablets today. Adv

Today, only a small crowd was on hand at the station. But what the early risers lacked in numbers they made up in enthusiasm.

A busy day was arranged for the visitors. It included a trip to Arlington to place a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier, airplane and auto sightseeing trips, luncheon by the three air secretaries, a tea and reception by Dr. Kiep, and also a dinner and a reception tonight.

For tomorrow a luncheon at the National Press club and a dinner by Harry Wardman, Washington builder, were on schedule.

New Guide Book To Aid Yale Graduates Seeking Positions

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 19.—When the Yale class of 1929 starts out in the world its members will have something more than Yale men of other classes had; a guide book in the technique of getting a job.

Announcement was made here this fall that Prof. Albert Beecher Crawford, director of Yale's personnel department, has written the guide book under the title of "The Choice of an Occupation."

The Yale Alumni Weekly describes the book as "a cold douche for the young man who starts job hunting with an exaggerated idea of his chances for instantaneous success."

New York—One of the ambitions of Rene Lacoste, French tennis star, who is here on a business trip, is to see a college football game.

NEWS AND PROGRAMS

GRID BROADCASTS

Football will have its second big afternoon of the season Saturday. When more than 50 stations will broadcast play by play accounts of the nation's "big" grid games. The Columbia chain, both NBC net works, and numerous smaller stations which will transmit accounts of lesser important games will deliver accounts of gridiron battles to the home.

At 2:15, Harvard vs. the Army will be available through the following stations: WEAF, WEEI, WTIC, WLIT, WRC, WGY, WGR, WCAE, and WBZ. Of this number, probably the best station for Salem listeners to tune in is WCAE.

At the same time, Notre Dame plays Georgia and the game is sent on the ether circuit via the following: WJZ, WHAM, KWK, WBT, WHAS, WSB, WPRC, WJR and WLW. WLW or WJR is best for local fans.

Chicago stations place in the air the Big Ten battle between Illinois and Chicago, at 3:30. Salem time, KYW and other stations are on this hookup, which however will be hard for listeners of this locality to locate on the dials. WCCO and a few Chicago stations transmit accounts of the Minnesota-Chicago fracas.

Tech W. & J. Game
As WTAM is not included in any of the grid schedules, probably the best game of the schedule for Salem listeners to tune into will be the Carnegie Tech-Washington and Jefferson game through KDKA. The Columbia chain football broadcast will be announced tomorrow.

WTAM has tentatively arranged to send out accounts of the Ohio State-Michigan game which is attracting all the attention through Ohio. Fans will be more interested in this game than others due to the fact that a Salem boy, Charley Coffey, will probably appear in State's lineup.

WLS FEATURES

A new series of programs by the Oriental Male Quartet, that will feature the folk songs of many countries will be started tonight at 7:10 over WLS, Chicago. The Oriental Quartet has long enjoyed a fine reputation in both the radio and public concert field for its programs presenting the best in music and for this new series the quartet has spent many weeks of preparation in studying the folk music of many lands.

The Catholic Casino club of Chicago, internationally known for its choral concerts, will be presented to the radio audience in a special Chicago World's Fair program, starting at 9 o'clock. The club is composed of 55 men's voices chosen from the foremost choirs of Chicago and the president, Herman J. Schlitt, and director, Joseph Moos.

New York — Birdies, like moths, are attracted by a flame. Using candles to mark the 18th hole after it became dark, three members of a foursome at the Dunwoode golf club course made four and the other shot a par five.

A Man's Sweetie Won't Tell Him

There's a reason why, at times, she refuses to tell. Your face feels like a nutting grater. You ought to use this new, different shaving cream, KEMX. Softens toughest blades instantly so even a dull blade slides thru like greased. Thick, cool lather, twice as fast. Best of all, it leaves your face cool, soft and smooth as a girl's for hours, because it contains ingredients of a woman's beauty cream. If druggist hasn't it, send 5c to Glessner Co., Findlay, O. Desk 2.

Outside Icing

Why don't YOU enjoy its wonderful convenience?

"I'D RATHER do without nearly any convenience about my house than my outside icer," said a housewife to one of our service men the other day.

With outside icing facilities an ice box can be kept well iced all the time whether the housewife is at home or not. All that is necessary is to tell the iceman to keep the refrigerator well iced—and then enjoy the perfect service which ice—the truly ideal refrigerant—gives, combined with a facility which relieves you of all responsibility.

And the cost is but little more than for an ordinary ice box! If you are moving into a new house or apartment this fall be sure to insist on outside icing. Or, if you are planning to stay where you are, you can have an outside icer put in with little trouble and at very moderate cost.

Red And Black All Prepped For Wellsville Game Saturday

Down-County Team Out To Stop Salem's Drive For Third County Title

Only Wellsville, East Liverpool, and East Palestine are between Salem High and the third consecutive Columbiana county championship to be held by the Red and Black school. Wellsville's threat to put a stop to the monopoly held on county titles by Salem will be tested at Wellsville tomorrow afternoon, and next Saturday, Floyd Stone's charges will enjoy a well-earned rest, the date being held open permanently, to prepare the team for the crucial invasion of East Liverpool on Reilly stadium, November 3.

East Palestine comes to Salem November 24, the next to the last game on the Salem schedule, and according to all indications, none of this trip pack a threat sufficient to stop Salem's run of county triumphs.

Wellsville is the team which Stone's charges are being pointed for at the present, however. Active preparation for tomorrow's tilt closed Thursday evening, Stone sending his regulars through a series of stiff scrimmages against the reserves and third squad members, and today pronounces his eleven fit for the best Wellsville has to offer.

Starts Same Lineup

The same squad which carried the Red and Black to a decisive win at Warren last week end will in all probability compose the starting lineup against the up-county eleven although more changes will be effected than in the gruelling Warren scrap. Though every member of the squad which took part in the Warren game is suffering from bumps and bruises, none are of the serious nature. Stone will however, take no chances on getting any of the team injured seriously and make several changes before the final tilt.

This is of course considering that Wellsville gridriders will not furnish more opposition than experts agree they will. The Keightley squad so far has been unable to put forth an impressive showing, due to the lack of veterans, and unless there is a dramatic and unlooked for change in the team's play, Salem will continue its winning streak of the season to five, and add the third county scalp to its belt.

Captain Scullion Hurt

Jimmy Scullion and "Skinny" Webber are the most seriously hurt members of the Salem combine. Stone stated today, and will not remain in the game longer than necessary. Len Yates and John Van Blaricom have had both ankles taped all week. Bill Smith's side hasn't been so good, and the rest of the squad is nursing spots that might become more serious without diligent care.

"Stop Sidinger" is the cry which is issuing from Wellsville quarters. Sidinger is Salem's big offense.

News From Buckeye State Gridirons

Dartmouth—Forget Brown and beat Detroit! This has been the slogan of the University of Dayton flyers this week and will continue as the battle cry all next week. The Dayton squad is idle tomorrow, while the reserve team goes to Delaware to see what they can do against Ohio Wesleyan's reserves. The affair with the Detroit Titans will be played next Saturday in Dayton's stadium as the homecoming event of the season.

Bowling Green—One of the most important games in the Northwest conference race will take place this afternoon when Bowling Green college resumes football relations with Toledo university after a lapse of four years. Toledo won the title last year, and hopes to repeat, but Bowling Green being second last year, is after the hunting this time. The Falcons claim to have the best team in years, but on the other hand, Toledo's rockets are not to be placed so low. The one thing that bothers Coach Petecoff is the loss of Kazmaier, Dunn and Schlemmer, because of injuries. Fans can bet their money that this game will be fast, exciting and chock full of thrills.

Oberlin—Coach MacEachron's gridriders have been spending the week preparing a defense against Case's wonderful passing scoring combination and claim they are ready for the scientists. This should be a big battle, but Case has a slight edge according to the dopesters.

Alliance—Kenneth Sweet, former varsity end on Mount Union's grid team, has been shifted to a halfback position, in an effort to stop Boles' Wooster college ball carriers tomorrow. Sweet is a good offensive man, and Coach John Thorpe thinks he is more valuable at halfback than on the line.

Athens—Ohio university will entertain the university of Cincinnati here tomorrow in its annual homecoming celebration. In the second Buckeye association contest for the year, Coach Don Peden is worried, too, and seems to be having difficulty in picking out the probable lineup, with many of the squad on the hospital list and unable to play in tomorrow's tangle with the Bearcats. The Bobcats have a fighting, battling aggregation, however, and the addition of Jerry Warshawer, a halfback to the squad, the Athenians have taken new hope.

Ashland—Ashland college gridriders left today for Johnston, Pa., where they will meet the Juniata Indians tomorrow for the Brethren church championship. The Purple will be without the services of Ray Novotny, who left a sickbed last week to run wild against Wilington, and has suffered a relapse. He will accompany the team but will not be used except in case of absolute necessity.

Revenge Features Eastern Gridirons
New York, Oct. 19.—Army, Penn. Dartmouth and Yale are favored to win the four big games which head the East's football program for tomorrow. The cadets are resuming gridiron relations with Harvard at Cambridge, Penn. takes on Penn State at Philadelphia. Dartmouth entertains Columbia and Brown invade the lair of the bulldog at New Haven.

Penn and Dartmouth are meeting their first tough opponents. And Harvard and Brown will be the first major eastern teams to meet Army and Yale.

Three of the four games might be termed grudge contests. Army has never beaten Harvard in 13 starts, Columbia has failed to defeat Dartmouth in the modern era, and Penn is seeking revenge for its beating by Penn State last season.

Buckeyes Set For Annual Clash With Michigan Wolverines

Schedule Calls For Important Big Ten Games

Indiana - Illinois Contest Looms As Vital Tilt Of Menu

Chicago, Oct. 19.—They dragged out the prayer rugs in midwest football camps today as Big Ten conference teams prepared for tomorrow's clashes with their little potentialities.

Like the fatal seventh inning in baseball, Saturday's games were regarded as "do or die" character and a defeat for hitherto unbeaten eleven will spell wrecking of title hopes.

Illinois, 1927 champion, plays Indiana; Michigan battles Ohio, Wisconsin clashes with Purdue and Minnesota meets the lowly University of Chicago. Iowa takes on breather in Ripon of Wisconsin and Northwestern's "Wildcats" will claw it out with the "Wildcats" of Kentucky. The Purple and Iowa games are non-conference events.

Perhaps the most important Big Ten game tomorrow is the Indiana-Illinois game at Champaign-Urbana. Coach Bob Zuppke's squad, making its conference debut, will likely try an air game against Coach Pat Page's highly-touted eleven which conquered Michigan last Saturday. Indiana has a stronger line than the Illini but the Orange and Blue eleven, with Zuppke's marvelous bag of tricks, should triumph in a bitter contest.

In meeting Wisconsin, winners over Notre Dame early this season, Purdue faces a powerful heavy eleven similar to the Minnesota machine which crushed the boiler-makers last Saturday. Coach Phenax's eleven may hardly be expected to make a better showing against the Badgers than they did against the Gopher team, unless their air attack clicks in better shape at home than abroad.

At Columbus the Ohio team, triumphant over Northwestern last week-end, should score a victory over Michigan, which has shown little of its former class this fall.

Studebakers Bolster Team

The Salem-Sebring Althouse Studebakers, weakened in their last game by the loss of Sky Mefort and Frank Hogue, who have left the team to play with the Ironton Tanks and Canton Bulldogs, will have these weak places patched up in the game against the Fairmount Bulls of Alliance Sunday.

At least four new faces will be seen in the Studebaker's lineup, according to Joe M. Kelley, who has taken over coaching responsibilities since Mefort's departure, three of whom will be backfield men, and one a lineman.

Bob Wilson, Salem grid product, later captain of the University of Rollins, Fla. team, for two years, will occupy the center position. Included in the three new backfield men is a former all-southern fullback with the University of Florida last year, an all-Ohio half, with Wooster, and another all-Ohio backfield man, from Baldwin-Wallace.

The new players will add much strength to the aggregation, which plainly showed weaknesses in both defense and offense against the Spicer Billiards of Akron last Sunday.

Kelley, with Ed Howell, who supervises the team from the Sebring end, will continue making out a season's schedule which will include the state's best semi-pro outfits, as it is believed that the new players will easily replace Mefort and Hogue.

The Fairmount Bulls have a strong outfit this year, composed mostly of former Alliance High and Mount Union college stars, many of whom are familiar to Salem grid followers.

The Long And Short Of It

Alliance, Oct. 19.—Above are the two big boys on the Mount Union college football eleven. At the left is Lorin Lindamood (Alliance) center, who towers 6 feet 3 1/2 inches in height, with Wilbur "Rib" Meredith (Painesville), the shortest member of the Mount team, who as quarterback tells Lindamood what to do and when. Meredith from the ground up reaches a height of 5 feet 7 1/2 inches, and weighs in at 164 pounds which is 31 pounds lighter than the weight of his teammate.

Present Football Rule Book Seems To Please Majority Of Coaches

Fumbled Punt Ruling Has Evened Matters On Grids And Goal Post Positions Have Opened Kick From Any Angle Possibilities

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, Oct. 19.—For the first time since they took the bustles off the players and put them on cheer leaders, we seem to have achieved a game of football that is coming into acceptance even if only by a minority of those actively identified with the proposition. The writer naturally has talked with only a comparative few of the thousands who make football their life, but these have been unanimous in their affirmation of the rule, as they are constituted at the moment. At the very worst, they feel that the code should be sent out on approval for an interval lasting well into the third year.

It is the writer's opinion that, if the goal posts continue on the end zone, the lateral pass still is operating and the dead-ball-on-a-fumbled-punt remains in force with some degree of satisfaction at the end of the interval in question, they may stay with us not a great deal less than forever. Minor repairs, perhaps, but none of those machine shop jobs where you leave the car as security and hope the man will mention the common decency never to mention the bill again.

Lateral Passes

It, therefore, is encouraging that criticism, always to be expected in the face of perfection itself, seems to be at something of a minimum. As far as my observation goes, the lateral pass appears destined to become an integral part of the attack. A new play last year, it perhaps was approached discreetly or not at all. But now they are beginning to sense the possibilities of this play and gradually it is coming into general and expeditious use. As it develops it may throw too great a burden on the defense, in which case they may have to hobble it. But it isn't likely they ever will throw it away entirely.

The committee made a dead ball of the fumbled punt to take an element of great uncertainty out of the game and the football coach never breathed who would think of objecting. Those gentlemen are all for a life of untroubled security, never having had one. Some of them indeed, are for going further with this rule. Glenn Warner, for example, is for making a dead ball of all fumbles. I think you can write the fumbled-punt rule in the book in indelible ink.

Goal Posts

There has been some adverse comment on the current position of the goal posts on the ground that it discourages field goal kicking. Rockne isn't even sure that it does that, since he points out with justice that it opens the angle on kicks from the sidelines and corners.

Anyhow, for those who like their posts on the goal line, there are a dozen who can give you some very

Although the training sessions this week have been in secret and included many lectures, there is no indication of over-confidence on the part of the varsity team, according to reports coming from Ohio State coaches.

Michigan on Scene

The invading Michigan squad which has undergone two defeats already this season, arrived in Columbus early this morning and were slated to take a light workout on the stadium field this afternoon.

Due to minor injuries which according to reports affect the efficiency of several of the first string men, will make the starting lineup of the Buckeye squad doubtful until shortly before the game Saturday. A "conservative" tentative lineup which will be subject to changes was given out following the practice yesterday.

The lineup includes Fessler, and Surina at ends; Raskowski and Larkins at tackles; Young and Selby at guards; Barratt at center; Holman at quarterback; Elby and Coffee at halfbacks, and McClure at fullback. It is not likely, reports reveal that Kruskamp or Ujhelyi will start the Michigan contest.

Cleveland Merchant Loses Diamond Stock

Cleveland, Oct. 19. — Police here today were seeking a thief who yesterday obtained about $10,000 worth of loose diamonds, wrapped in tissue paper, from the Leonard Berger jewelry store yesterday.

Sam Weintraub, proprietor of the store, reported that he took the diamonds from a safe yesterday morning, put them in a place where they are usually hid during the day, and did not miss them until late in the afternoon.

Light Practices Over Week Prepared State For Wolverine Fray

Columbus, Oct. 19.—Gridiron warriors of Ohio State University were slated to finish the lightest week of practice before an important game in the history of the Buckeye University, this afternoon with a short workout, preliminary to the clash with the Wolverine aggregation of the University of Michigan Saturday.

Rain descending on the practice field at the training period nearly every night this week halted intensive workout plans formulated following the Northwestern fray by Coach Jack Wilce, Ohio State mentor. Only one real scrimmage was held during the week, that one coming on Wednesday night against the Freshmen squad and played in a sea of mud and trick turf.

Another scrimmage session was attempted against the Freshmen last night but no headway in the matter of improving offensive and defensive tactics was gained owing to the condition of the practice field. All of the Buckeye regulars, however, including Joe Ujhelyi, guard, Howard Kruskamp, halfback and Harold Kruskamp, fullback, who have been on the varsity cripple list, were in uniform during the practice yesterday.

Although the training sessions this week have been in secret and included many lectures, there is no indication of over-confidence on the part of the varsity team, according to reports coming from Ohio State coaches.

"HAROLD TEEN"

"Harold Teen," the drug store cowboy with Oxford bags and a weakness for Shebas whose antics on comic pages throughout the country have entertained millions, has turned to the screen and comes in that form to the state theater tonight.

Harold, the irrepressible country boy takes the city high school by storm, fills us with a longing once more to play "one old cat" and joining the "gang" in some sort of mischievous prank. There are few who do not wish they could live their youth over again and "Harold Teen" comes nearer to that than anything yet devised.

The picture is based on Carl Ed's newspaper comic strip of the same name and contains all of the characters made famous by that noted cartoonist. Tom Geraghty, who is given credit for the screen story, has elaborated on many of Ed's most laughable situations to an extent that rocks the house with mirth.

The title role is played by Arthur Lake, who gives the outstanding performance of his career and one that should go far toward making him one of the screen's most popular comedians. The leading feminine role — that of Lilium — is played by Mary Brian; while Alice White in the part of Giggles, the school vamp, is great. Others in the cast include Lumen Littlefield, Jack Duffy, Hedda Hopper, Ed Brady, Jack Egan, Frances Hamilton and Fred Kelsey.

"THE WATER HOLE"

For those who like western pictures, "The Water Hole" has some beautiful and exciting desert scenes with much riding and tense situations. For those who prefer society drama, "The Water Hole" has an absorbing plot centering around a pampered society belle and scenes of magnificent entertainment in the homes and lives of the wealthy. This feature is at the Grand tonight and Saturday.

Jack Holt, as a young engineer in love with the philanthropic Nancy Carroll, proves himself a versatile and accomplished actor. In formal dress clothes or in rough riding outfit, Holt is equally at home. His technique is unassailable and his characterization, convincing.

This scenic photography is beautiful and the sequences done in technical art are impressive. Long vistas of desert land; huge mountain ranges rising abruptly from the trackless sand and detail scenes of the historic ruins of the Indian cliff dwellers make this picture a permanent screen gem and good entertainment.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Oct. 19.—After black, which undoubtedly is the smartest shade at the French dressmakers this season, it will be the scarlet of the green this winter in Paris.

Every imaginable shade of the favorite tint from the Emerald Isle is to be seen, except those veering on the olive tones. For sports and morning costumes there are the brighter tones of almond, rosetta and a darker grayish green, as well as a bright emerald. For afternoon wear there is myrtle, hunter's green. For evening there are all the brighter shades together with jade, grass-green, chartreuse and almond. Shimmering green velvet in rich bottle-green makes some charming evening gowns at one of the dressmakers in the rue de la Paix.

Brown is used from tan to deep seal, including golden-brown and bronze which are very good for evening.

Red still holds its own in every tone from lightest geranium to the deepest wine color. Cardinal is good for sports with bright lacquer, geranium-red and Harvard crimson for evening wear. Darker shades of garnet and wine-color make pretty afternoon frocks.

Juliette Courtisien is using it in moire with jabot in crepe georgette.

The most popular shade of blue is half-way between French blue and navy. There is also a new gray or steel-blue in light and dark tones. For evening frocks there are two extremes, the brightest of shades in seagreen, velvet or taffeta, and the palest of tints which just escape being white in satin or chiffon.

White will be popular winter color for evenings, but more of the egg-shell color than dead white.

Gray and beige are good for sports and morning costumes. In lace they make pretty evening frocks.

The Modern Colored Floor

Color long ago entered our homes and invaded its most secret precincts. And now it has descended to our floors. The up-to-date Northern hard maple wood flooring comes already stained with a fadeless stain that is chosen by the buyer from sample cards, tiny board strips stained in the choice of colors. Choosing one's floor boards as one chooses hats is a new idea, but one that is taking immensely with home builders.

We have all at some time in our lives wrestled with floor stains and we know how hard it is to get just the color we want. And when we do get it how hard it is to keep it, for cleaning and wear takes its toll and we are always meeting the bare boards peeping through. No such trouble with the new stains, for the boards are stained professionally and with a stain that is transparent enough to show the lovely grain of the wood. If the colored floor becomes discolored, it may always be restained another color, or it may be covered with linoleum, matting or other coverings, so we are not wedded for life to the first color chosen.

All floors must have a weekly dressing of oil, wax, cream or polish to keep them in order. The spots where the most walking is done should be covered with suitable rugs for protection. Perhaps the purple floor is the newest, but it is fadeless and grows rich in hue under frequent top polishing. It is a delightful change. Pongee draperies dyed to match are lovely with these floors. Many women are also dyeing the gay woven rugs one color and getting some wonderful effects, as no two colors take just the same quantity of tone from the dye, but the white borders and fringes exactly match the floor if the right dye is chosen.

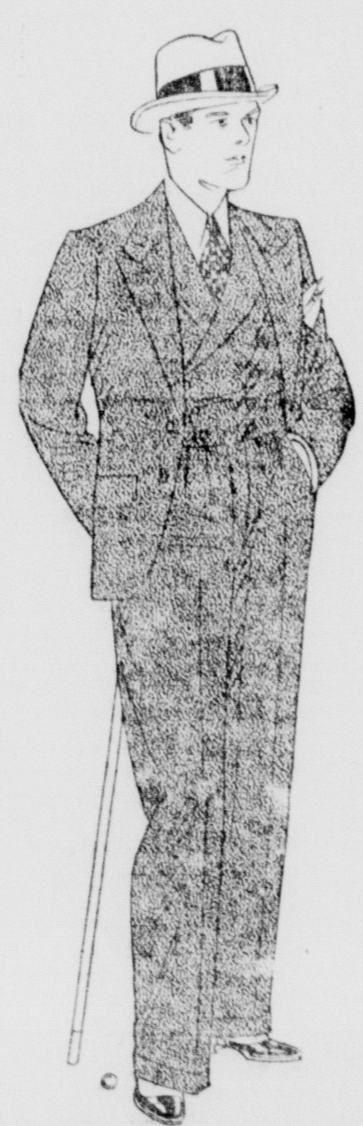

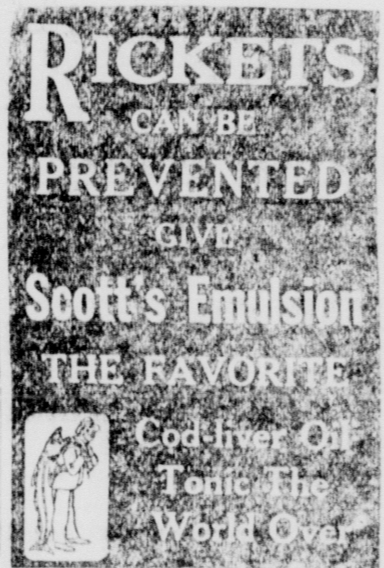

A new floor brush has appeared which not only polishes the floor but also sandpapers and removes the old shellac or stain from old floors, refinishes, waxes and polishes them in turn. We have always had to have this done by the painter and it was an expensive job, but this new machine for non-hold use can be operated by a strong armed member of the family and at much less cost.

The old-fashioned housewife used to wash up her floors, which had been painted, with milk, but after several washings she would wash them up with lukewarm water and a little homemade soap, dry them and then run over with a cloth moistened with milk. This gave them a wonderful polish and brought up the tone of the color well. The waxing was done with the scrapings of a wax candle and then sliding over the floor with carpet slippers or using a carpet-covered brick.

TELEPHONE MAN IS FETED AFTER 50 YEARS WORK

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 19.—The telephone business is getting on in age as well as in size. A second man has been listed as having been employed in the telephone business for 50 years. He is John W. Ladd, of the Southern New England Telephone company, the company that made and operated the first commercial switchboard ever used.

Previously there had been but one "fifty year" man. He is Robert W. Devonshire, of Boston, connected with the New England Telephone and Telegraph company forces.

Mr. Ladd was feted when he attained his half-century of service. Gathered with him was a group of men who have averaged forty-five years of telephone service in Connecticut. They were Herman Kraft, Park Lewis, C. B. Doolittle, George Stannard and James T. Moran, now the president of the Southern New England Telephone company.

Started as Lineman
Mr. Ladd started as a lineman in the fall of 1878, a few months after the first switchboard went into operation here and furnished communication between a score of telephones. Mr. Ladd was almost everything in the new strange concern. Nine months later, Meriden, eighteen miles from New Haven, put in a telephone exchange and the system started growing. Mr. Ladd stood by then to keep wires intact and has been in responsible position with the company ever since. He is now serving in an advisory capacity.

The telephone came into Connecticut just before Mr. Ladd went into communication engineering. A couple of Bridgeport factories were united with Alexander Graham Bell's new device for carrying the voice.

First Switchboard
The men who put the phones into service in Bridgeport rode over to New Haven and interested a group of local business men in the affair. Fairly speedily for those days the first commercial switchboard started.

Telephone people have recognized New Haven's historic position in the business. Today a bronze tablet marks the site of the building where the switchboard was installed and used almost fifty-one years back. And today the deeds of the pioneers in the business are being recognized by the men who are carrying on in the pioneers' footsteps.

Hamilton, O. — Mercy hospital here today had as a guest its full blooded Indian baby, Joseph George. The child was born here yesterday. The parents, members of the Seminole tribe, were camping here enroute to the reservation in Oklahoma, where they are required to report every two years.

Is Sea Gull Pest Or Blessing? Capetowners Divided In Debate

Provincetown, Mass., Oct. 19.—Is the sea gull of Cape Cod a blessing or a detriment? This is the question which at present is under discussion in this historic port.

The populace of the cape is divided in its opinion, depending upon the means of livelihood the individual expressing his view follows.

The farmer, for instance, lauds the gull, giving for his reason the fact that he goes inland at times and removes insects which would be destructive to the farmer's crop. With the fishermen, however, it is a different matter altogether. Sea gulls cost the fishermen hundreds of dollars annually by perching on the canvas tops of power dories and running them.

The gull is also accused of stealing clams from the buckets of clam diggers while those worthy laborers happen to be gazing in the opposite direction.

It seems that the fisherman does not take everything into consideration, however. The gull is generally credited with helping to prevent wrecks in fog and with aiding the fisherman in making bigger hauls by hovering over schools of fish.

One thing more is said in defense of the sea gull. It has been proved that he will trail a submarine, thus making him a valuable aid in naval warfare, and he has also been detected on drifting mines, shrieking a warning to approaching boats.

IT TAKES ALL-BRAN TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

More and more people are eating bran for "health's sake" these days. And it's a fine thing. But not everybody realizes what a difference there is in so-called "brans." Doctors say it takes 100% bran to supply enough roughage to relieve constipation. Part-bran products, at best, can only be partly effective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. It furnishes roughage in effective quantities—and in the most effective form: cooked and krumbled. It does a work part-bran products cannot hope to equal. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal—are guaranteed to relieve constipation.

Serve ALL-BRAN often. With milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Be sure you get genuine Kellogg's though—in the red-and-green package. Use it in cooking. Sprinkle into soups. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

CONAN DOYLE IS SURE HAIG AND CONRAD RETURN

London, Oct. 19.—Field Marshal Earl Haig, England's war-time hero, and Joseph Conrad, the greatest novelist, both live in some mysterious spirit world and their souls are striving to communicate with the friends and relatives who were bereaved by their deaths.

This is the assertion and the belief of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the writer and spiritualist, who declares that he has received "spirit messages" from both men months after they have been laid to rest.

Sir Arthur's intense belief in the subject which now holds such great interest for him, is so deep and profound that what might seem to be idle boasts are vested with credibility when the assertions come first hand from his own lips.

To Finish Novel

Conrad, Sir Arthur declares, wants Doyle to finish for him a novel on which he was working at the time of his death. Earl Haig is anxious above everything else to communicate with his widow and family.

Here is the way Sir Arthur tells the story:

"I was informed that Joseph Conrad had asked, through a medium, 'for Doyle' he declared. 'I immediately got into communication with him. He wanted me to do something I could not do. He wanted me to finish a book of his. Of course I could not. And I found that the book was being published. It was 'Suspense'."

"It was only two days after the death of Earl Haig that I had from him a long and intimate communication. I asked him for something evidential that I could transmit to his family to convince them of the authenticity of our conversation. He supplied it, but naturally I cannot divulge its contents."

"I sent the communication verbatim to his family. I have heard nothing since. Perhaps my message went astray, but if not I am surprised that his family has not communicated with me. Lord Haig was an ardent spiritualist, and often attended seances. I am convinced that he is anxious to get in touch and keep in touch with his relatives of this world."

Through Medium

"The statement I received from Marshal Haig was through a very well-known medium, the daughter of a famous Shakespearian authority. It was of such a personal nature that I have not made it known to anyone except to his family."

Sir Arthur caused a sensation here shortly after the Field Marshal's death by exhibiting a photograph of the gun-carriage in which Earl Haig's body was carried to its grave. Directly over the coffin was a blurred, indistinct head, which Sir Arthur declared was indubitably a "spirit picture" of the dead soldier.

Goodyear Officials Injured In Crash

Goudreau, superintendent of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., cotton mill at St. Hyacinthe, Que., was reported in a serious condition at City hospital here today with a fractured skull suffered when an automobile in which he was a passenger crashed with another machine on the Cleveland-Akron highway last night.

H. L. Starr, 40, of Akron, driver of the car, was taken to Goodyear hospital at Akron with cuts about the head. E. H. Koken, general superintendent of the Goodyear plant at Toronto, Ont., who was also in the car, escaped injury.

GOLF COURSE MADE LARGER

Sebring Club Adds Nine Holes To Plant; Work Starts

Sebring, Oct. 19.—With the recent leasing of 18 additional acres of land by the Sebring Country club, the officials of the club say that a full nine-hole golf course will be available for golfers next season. The land was secured from O. F. Henry, who also owns the land used for the present course.

Arrangements have been made for starting work on the course immediately. The new land will be plowed, harrowed and seeded so that it will be ready for use at the opening of the golf season next spring.

A committee, composed of Ted Jones, greenkeeper, Albert Strong, C. F. Henry and Ray Henry has been appointed to supervise the work.

BUILDING BOARD MADE OF STRAW HELPS FARMERS

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Building boards are being made from straw in several regions where there are no forests, Sidney D. Wells, chemical engineer of Quincy, Ill., declared in a report to the Engineering Foundation, New York.

The rise of this process, enabling the construction industry to employ a new material and to make a substantial contribution to farm relief, he attributes to scientific research.

"In the great wheat areas," says Mr. Wells, "enormous quantities of straw are burned annually because it is too resistant to decay to be assimilated by the soil between harvest and sowing time. Only an infinitesimal quantity is otherwise utilized."

Save Transportation
"Most cereal areas are devoid of forests and must transport lumber from distant places. From the beginning of civilization straw has been used in rural habitations, for both men and beast, where the fire hazard was small. Its capacity for retaining the passage of heat has long been recognized."

"The laboratory learned that few raw materials, if any, were adaptable as straw to the manufacture of insulating board. Its fibers are cemented together in long filaments, which can be pounded apart after softening by digestion at elevated temperatures for a few hours."

"The proportion of fiber is large; it is devoid of pith. Only mild cooking is required, and not more than 20 per cent is rendered soluble. Much of the latter is adhesive; it acts as a strong binder and waterproofing agent."

Boards Are Strong
"Board made from straw is exceptionally strong because the filamentous characteristics are retained; felted properties together with the cementing characteristics of the binding material form a strongly interwoven mass."

"In fabrication in the wet condition the fibrous mass is extremely flexible and plastic, but after drying, it becomes rigid and strongly cemented together."

Find Scissors In Woman's Abdomen
Nice, France, Oct. 19. — Annie Crotch, an English woman living in this city thought she was suffering from cancer until the doctors removed a pair of scissors from her stomach recently.

She had her first operation in London a few years ago, later coming to France where she continued to suffer. The doctors then thought the trouble might come from the bladder, so she went under the knife a second time, with no better results.

Miss Crotch came to the conclusion she had cancer, so had an X-ray made which revealed a pair of surgeon's pincers in her stomach. They were left there by her first surgeon, eight years ago.

VIRGINIA DRIES TO CELEBRATE 12 ARID YEARS

Richmond, Va., Oct. 19.—Just a few days prior to the nation's celebration of the tenth signing of the armistice, Virginia's dries will gather here on November 1 and observe the twelfth year of state-wide prohibition.

The state anti-saloon league will assemble without the leadership of its president, Dr. John Preston McConnell, at East Radford. He resigned. The celebration will be interrupted for a brief business meeting during which a new president will be elected.

McConnell created a sensation throughout the state recently when he endorsed Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential candidate. The Rev. David Hepburn, superintendent of the state league, issued a statement to counteract McConnell's action. Hepburn declared the statement of the president did not imply the league would stop its campaign against Smith's election. He declared McConnell was only president of the state body and held no office on the anti-Smith committee. He announced a belief that McConnell favored the New York governor because of political associations.

Glasgow Trucker Put Bricks In Cases Of Booze for Americans

Glasgow, Oct. 19.—In catching John O'Rourke, a young truck-driver, and having him sentenced to 60 days' imprisonment, the Glasgow police believe they have got to the bottom of a whiskey swindle. Following many complaints from America that numerous cases of whiskey exported from the Clyde river were found to contain bricks, the police carried out extensive investigations.

A watch was kept on trucks conveying whiskey from the local railroad station to the docks, and O'Rourke was seen to open two cases, remove 24 bottles of whiskey and substitute bricks.

His arrest and imprisonment followed.

Sudbury, Mass.—Henry Ford is regarded by his wife as "easy-going." She so told the Women's National Farm and Garden association of which she is president.

Mysterious Life Began Over Million Years Ago

Chicago, Oct. 19.—When did this mysterious thing called life begin?

One and one-half billion years ago, the first forms of life appeared on the earth, say the scientists who have systematically probed into the dim reaches of our world's past. What these first forms of life are believed to have looked like, and how they began, are shown in a painting, "The Beginnings of Life," recently placed on exhibition in Ernest R. Graham Hall of Historical Geology at Field Museum of Natural History. It is one of a series of paintings of prehistoric scenes, painted by Charles R. Knight of New York, and presented to the museum by Ernest R. Graham.

"The first forms of life undoubtedly originated in water," declared Dr. O. C. Farrington, curator of geology at the museum, who made extensive studies of this subject, and is one of a number of scientists who supplied data to the artist upon which his conceptions of the prehistoric world are based. "This water in which life had its origin is believed by some authorities to have been sea water; by others it is thought to have been hot, volcanic water."

In the painting the artist has portrayed these earliest known forms of life as appearing in a group of pools. Within the waters of these pools algae of a blue-green hue are shown in such quantities as to tint the liquid with their colors. They also have built up a series of stony basins. In other pools, cushion-shaped forms of pink algae are shown. Other portions of the deposits are seen to be tinged brown or orange by algae of those colors. The adjoining rocks are represented as being bare or naked, no other life being in existence at this time. The rocks are mostly of black lava but some areas of a reddish color are shown to indicate the great iron-bearing deposits which were also formed at this time.

PASSENGER OF PLANE CAUSES SHIP TO FALL

Jams Controls In Flyer's
Cockpit; Ship Was Like "Bremen"

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 19.—George King, 34, pilot of the sight-seeing plane which crashed here last evening, declared today to authorities investigating the tragedy that a frenzied passenger had caused the accident by seizing the controls as he was bringing the ship to the ground. Eight persons were injured, one fatally.

King, who is in the Atlantic City hospital with a broken leg, said that the passenger lost his head, believing that the plane was making too rapid a descent. The passenger climbed into the cockpit and jammed the foot control, freezing the rudder and preventing King from righting the ship, the pilot said. He said he did not know the passenger's name.

W. Octave Chanute, Denver banker, died of a fractured skull and a compound fracture of the right leg two hours after the all-metal Junkers plane, a sister ship of the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen, went into a tail spin and made a nose dive from an elevation of 1,500 feet into the marshes just outside the city.

Chanute was 53 years old. He was a delegate to the convention here of the Investment Bankers' association.

Two bankers were injured critically. They are Pinky Jewell, 51, Boston, whose skull was fractured; and Thomas W. Dysart, 48, St. Louis, Mo. Dysart was a member of the syndicate that backed Col. Charles Lindbergh's flight to Paris. He sustained a broken left wrist, a fractured rib and internal injuries.

Other passengers injured were Harry L. Duer, 35, Baltimore; Alden H. Little, 35, Chicago; Ferdinand Ebbe, 35, Atlantic City, and Ralph Somers, 19, of Atlantic City.

The plane plunged down through the main trunk lines of Atlantic City's telephone and telegraph wires, crippling the city's wire communication. The wires and the mud of the marshes broke the force of the plane's fall somewhat and probably saved passengers from instant death.
